The History of Urdu Fonts

The history of Urdu fonts started from traditional handwritten calligraphy known as Nastaleeq. Before computers, Urdu books and newspapers were written manually by skilled calligraphers. In 1981, Ahmad Mirza Jamil created Noori Nastaleeq, the first digital Urdu font, which completely changed Urdu publishing.

Later, Unicode technology made Urdu fonts compatible across Windows, Mac, Android, and iPhone devices. Today, users can easily download free Urdu fonts and use them anywhere without compatibility issues.
